EXHIBIT A

DECLARATION OF STEFAN BOEDEKER

I, Stefan Boedeker, declare as follows:

1. I am currently employed as a Director at the Berkeley Research Group in their Los Angeles office. I submit this Declaration in support of the proposed allocation of funds to individual putative class members contained in Exhibit 3 hereto. I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth in this Declaration and, if called upon to do so, I could and would testify truthfully and competently to those facts.

2. I am a Statistician and an Economist, with extensive experience applying data analytical and statistical methods to employment related matters such as discrimination, wrongful termination, and wage and hour cases. I have performed data analysis including, but not limited to, creating and analyzing large databases of time keeping and payroll records. I received a Bachelor of Science degree in Statistics and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration from the University of Dortmund/Germany in 1988. I received a Master of Science degree in Statistics from the University of Dortmund/Germany in 1988, and I received a Masters of Arts degree in Economics from the University of California, San Diego in 1992. Attached as Exhibit 1 hereto is my curriculum vitae. Attached as Exhibit 2 hereto is a list of cases in which my services have been utilized.

3. I was retained by Greenberg Traurig, LLP, counsel for Defendant West Marine Products, Inc. (“West Marine”) in the above captioned matter Karen Taylor et al. v. West Marine Products, Inc. to perform calculations to distribute the settlement funds across a certified class of 707 current and former employees. I had previously issued a declaration in this matter on July 24, 2014.

4. To perform my calculations detailed below, I utilized three data sources that I received from West Marine: Associate Spiff Detail Reports; Time Punch Data; and Earnings Reports from payroll. The data were initially analyzed to compile a class list of current and former employees who had spiff earnings in a week where they also had worked over eight hours on at least one day in that same week and where the spiff earnings were not included in the regular rate calculations, resulting in a miscalculation of the overtime premium under the method set forth in the Court's September 19, 2014 Order. In this regard, the Court used a method which requires not only (1) recalculation of the regular rate of pay for weeks in which no weekly overtime is worked, but during which there is daily overtime, but also (2) application of the regular rate not only to the half hour (or hour) of overtime premium pay, but also to the underlying hour worked. In short, apart from not requiring weekly overtime, this method results in a total overtime payment of 1.5 times (or 2 times for double time) the adjusted regular rate, rather than 1 times the straight rate plus .5 times the adjusted regular rate (or 1 times the straight rate plus 1 times the adjusted regular rate in the case of double time). As I understand it, application of the regular rate in that fashion for weekly overtime was rejected by the California Court of Appeal's decision in Marin v. Costco Wholesale Corp., 169 Cal. App. 4th 804 (2009).

5. However, applying the daily method outlined by the Court's September 19, 2014 Order, the Associate Spiff Detail data file yielded 687 current and former employees who matched the criteria of having spiff earnings in a week where they also had worked over eight hours on at least one day in that same week. However, a comparison between the Associate Spiff Detail data file and the Earnings Report showed spiff earnings recorded in the Earnings Reports that were not in the Associate Spiff Detail data file. Specifically, the Earning Report also includes spiffs that, due to their nature, are not recorded via the point of service (register) and thus are not included in the Spiff Detail data file (such as vendor-paid spiffs¹), and spiffs that were inadvertently not recorded in the Spiff Detail data file due to associate or technical error and are thus manually input into the Earnings Reports. A detailed analysis of the Earnings Reports resulted in an additional 20 current and former employees who matched the class definition as set forth by the Court. In total, there are 707 current and former employees who matched the criteria of having spiff earnings in a week where they also had worked over eight hours on at least one day in that same week.

¹ Further, and in an abundance of caution to ensure no spiffs were improperly excluded and that the maximum potential recovery was calculated, all spiffs including those paid by vendors identified in the Earnings Report were included in my calculations.

6. It is my understanding that the total “Settlement Proceeds” to be paid by West Marine in the settlement of this matter is $435,000. It is my further understanding, that from this $435,000 settlement amount, the following estimated payments are to be made: (i) up to $15,000 for Administrative Costs; (ii) $5,000 to each of the Plaintiffs ($10,000) in settlement of their individual claims, in addition to whatever representation fee the Court might award; (iii) Class Counsel’s Attorneys’ Fees as approved by the Court (assumed for the purpose of my calculations to be 30%²); (iv) Class Counsel’s Litigation Costs as approved by the Court (assumed for the purpose of my calculations to be $30,000³); (v) settlement disbursements to the Settlement Class (the “Net Settlement Amount”); and (vi) $5,000 (the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency’s share of allocated PAGA penalties).

7. Deducting the above payments from the total “Settlement Proceeds” results in a net settlement amount of $244,500 to be distributed among the certified class of 707 current and former West Marine employees. I came to this net settlement figure by subtracting the above Administrative Costs ($15,000), representation fee to Plaintiff Karen Taylor and Plaintiff Paulisa Fields ($10,000 total), and California Labor and Workforce Development Agency’s share of allocated PAGA penalties ($5,000) from the total “Settlement Proceeds” amount of $435,000. Subtracting these figures from $435,000 resulted in a total of $405,000. I then determined the estimated Attorney’s Fees to be paid to Class Counsel from the total “Settlement Proceeds” by multiplying $435,000 by .30 (assuming Attorney’s Fees would constitute 30% of the total recovery), which resulted in $130,500. Subtracting the Attorney's Fees amount of $130,500 from $405,000 resulted in $274,500. Finally, I estimated the total costs to be awarded to Class Counsel as $30,000. Subtracting this amount from the $274,500 figure resulted in a Net Settlement Amount of $244,500 to be distributed among the certified class of 707 current and former West Marine employees. The allocation of the $244,500 Net Settlement Amount figure is outlined in Section II(C) of the Parties' Settlement Agreement as well as in Exhibit 3 hereto. Because Exhibit 3 shows personal compensation information, including an analysis of former individual earnings, my understanding is that it the parties have requested that it be filed under seal with the Court.

² My calculations can be easily adjusted in the event that the Court approves a greater or lower fee award.

³ Likewise, my calculations can be adjusted in the event that the Court approves a greater or lower cost award.

DECLARATION OF STEFAN BOEDEKER

8. Section II(C) of the Settlement Agreement calls for the first thirty percent (30%) of the Net Settlement Amount to be allocated to waiting time penalties for Participating Class Members whose employment with Defendant ended prior to the Preliminary Approval Date, and divided equally among such persons. Accordingly, to determine the amount to be allocated for former employee recovery, I multiplied the Net Settlement Amount of $244,500 by .30. This resulted in $73,350 to be allocated to waiting time penalties. Given that there are 418 former employees, dividing $73,350 by 418 results in a sum of approximately $175.48 to be distributed to each member of the former employee class.

9. Section II(C) of the Settlement Agreement further calls for a total of $18,282.96 to be distributed to the class. This figure represents the total amount due to the class as a result of any underpay of the regular rate under the method set forth in the Court's September 19, 2014 Order.

10. Finally, Section II(C) of the Settlement Agreement requires that each Participating Class Member receive an equal distribution of the settlement funds that remain after deducting waiting time penalties and total underpayment due to the class under the method set forth in the Court's September 19, 2014 Order from the Net Settlement Amount of $244,500. Subtracting waiting time penalties of $73,500 and total underpayment due to the class under the method set forth in the Court's September 19,

DECLARATION OF STEFAN BOEDEKER

Case3:13-cv-04916-WHA Document139-2 Filed11/20/14 Page6 of 60

2014 Order of $18,282.96 from the $244,500 Net Settlement Amount results in $152,717.04 to be distributed equally across a certified class of 707 current and former employees. Dividing $152,717.04 by 707 class members' results in an additional sum of approximately $216 to be distributed to each class member.

11. In order to properly calculate the correct overtime premium to be utilized for the above distributions, including the spiff earnings, I applied the following five-step procedure.

- a. Step 1: Identify all instances in the Associate Spiff Detail data file when an employee had spiff earnings in a week where they also had worked over eight hours on at least one day in that same week.
- b. Step 2: Calculate total earnings in that week not including overtime premiums as follows:
 - i. Spiff earnings + (Regular Hours + Overtime Hours + Double Time Hours) * Pay Rate;
 - ii. The Associate Spiff Detail data file indicates the date when the spiff was actually earned and the spiff earning was counted in the week when it was earned.
- c. Step 3: Calculate all hours worked in that week (Regular Hours + Overtime Hours + Double Time Hours).
- d. Step 4: Divide the earnings computed in Step 2 by the hours computed in Step 3 to obtain the regular rate of pay ("RRP").
- e. Step 5: Half of the regular rate of pay computed in Step 4 is (under the Court's September 19, 2014 Order) the correct overtime premium including the spiff earnings. To obtain the underpaid overtime premium half of the pay rate ("PR") has to be subtracted and the following calculations for over time ("OT") and double time ("DT") have been performed:

DECLARATION OF STEFAN BOEDEKER

Case3:13-cv-04916-WHA Document139-2 Filed11/20/14 Page7 of 60

- i. Underpaid OT: $0.5 * (\text{RRP} - \text{PR}) * \text{OT hours}$;
- ii. Underpaid DT: $(\text{RRP} - \text{PR}) * \text{DT hours}$

12. To illustrate the calculations described above, I chose the class member whose employee ID is 44426, and to whom I will refer to by the fictitious name “Mr. Smith.” According to the time punch detail data, Mr. Smith worked 33.58 regular hours and 6.35 hours of overtime in the week ending 6/30/2012. According to the Associate Spiff Detail Report he earned $20.52 in spiffs in that week (6/24/2012 - $3.00, 6/25/2012 - $10.12, and 6/27/2012 - $7.40). His pay rate is listed as $20.7504 in the payroll Earnings Report in that week.

- a. Total earnings not including overtime premiums and total hours worked:
 - i. Spiff earnings: $20.52
 - ii. 33.58 hours of regular time + 6.35 hours of overtime = 39.93 hours
 - iii. 39.93 hours * pay rate of $20.7504 = $828.5635
 - iv. Total earnings: $20.52 + $828.5635 = $849.0835
- b. Regular rate of pay calculation:
 - i. Regular Rate of Pay: $849.0835/39.93 = $21.2643
 - ii. Difference between Regular Rate of Pay and pay rate: $21.2643 - $20.7504 = $0.513899
- c. Underpaid overtime premium calculations:
 - i. Underpaid overtime premium: $0.513899 * 6.35 overtime hours = $3.2633
 - ii. Underpaid overtime premium per court order: 3 * $0.513899 * 6.35 overtime hours = $9.7898

Rounding to dollars and pennies, comes to: $9.79

DECLARATION OF STEFAN BOEDEKER

13. It should be noted that in order to obtain the most favorable computations for the class members negative amounts for spiff earnings⁴ were excluded from these calculations. Additionally, to the extent that any calculations resulted in an amount constituting a fraction of a cent, this amount was rounded up to the next full cent figure.

14. Further, I compared the reported spiff earnings in the Associate Spiff Detail data file to the reported spiff earnings in the payroll Earnings Reports for the 687 current and former employees who had spiff earnings in a week where they also had worked over eight hours on at least one day in that same week. In cases where the Earnings Report included spiff earnings in addition to the spiff earnings identified in the Associate Spiff Detail data file, I performed the same calculations outlined in the five-step-procedure for the additional spiff earnings contained in the Earnings Reports. Because the Earnings Reports contain information only about the date when the spiff was actually paid to the employee, in the instances when the spiff earning was identified solely in the payroll Earnings Reports, I pulled the Time Punch Data for the employee and determined in which week of the two-week pay period the inclusion of the spiff would result in the highest amount potentially due to the employee under the Court's method. The spiff was then calculated as earned during the week that resulted in the highest amount potentially due to the employee under the Court's method.

15. The results of the above calculations, which identify the allocations made to each class member as described in Section II(C) to Settlement Agreement, are contained in the column labelled "Daily OT (1.5)" of Exhibit 3 to this declaration.

16. I performed the same process described above for each of these persons, but using the method suggested in Marin v. Costco Wholesale Corp., 169 Cal. App. 4th 804 (2009), such that the adjusted regular rate was applied only to the premium pay (.5 hours for regular overtime, and 1 hour for double overtime pay), with straight pay used to pay the underlying overtime hour. The results of those calculations also are shown in the column labelled “Daily OT (.5)” of Exhibit 3.

⁴ Negative entries for spiff earnings were the result of internal recording errors, including spiffs being inadvertently recorded as being earned by the wrong employee and subsequently being re-assigned to the correct employee such that, when corrected, the spiff amount that was incorrectly recorded and corrected appears as a negative.

17. Finally, Exhibit 3 shows the total amounts allocated to each of these 707 class members to include the maximum possible underpayment under the Court’s method of calculation, as well as any former employee award, as well as each class members’ participation of the Net Settlement Amount.

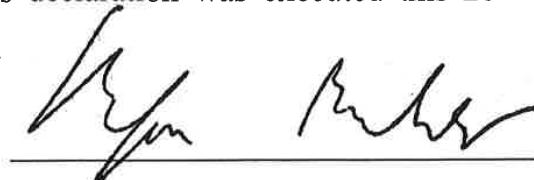

18. I was also asked to use some basic Excel sorting functions to sort Exhibit 3 and determine various key statistics. With these sorting tools, I determined that using approach set forth in Marin v. Costco Wholesale Corp., 169 Cal. App. 4th 804 (2009), and applying that to daily overtime (in weeks in which no weekly overtime was earned): 50% of the class (353 of 707) had an “underpayment” of $1 or less over 5 years; 74% of the class (526 of 707) had an “underpayment” of $5 or less over 5 years; and 96% of the class (677 of 707) had an “underpayment” of $50 or less over 5 years. Further, with these sorting tools, I determined that using the method set forth in the Court’s September 19, 2014 Order: 33% of the class (235 of 707) had an “underpayment” of $1 or less over 5 years; 55% of the class (394 of 707) had an “underpayment” of $5 or less over 5 years; and 88% of the class (624 of 707) had an “underpayment” of $50 or less over 5 years. Yet as shown in the total payment column of Exhibit 3, the estimated payments under the Settlement Agreement (assuming a 30% fee recovery and $30,000 in litigation costs) to the 707 class members, range from between $216 and $1111.

19. I am informed that Exhibit 3 to this declaration was provided to counsel for the plaintiffs as part of the mediation of this action. Thereafter, and as part of these settlement discussions, I have had several discussions with counsel for the plaintiffs, Alan Harris and Priya Mohan, as well as with their consultant, Evelyn Carlston, concerning the data and methods used to calculate the amounts set forth on Exhibit 3. West Marine’s counsel, Mark Kemple, also was a party to each of these discussions.

Stefan is a Director at Berkeley Research Group where he focuses on the application of economic, statistical, and financial models to a variety of areas such as solutions to business issues, complex litigation cases, and economic impact studies. He has extensive experience applying economic and statistical theories and methodologies to employment related matters such as discrimination, wrongful termination, and wage and hour cases. His work in such cases to date has included, but is not limited to, designing and conducting surveys, time and motion studies, observational studies, statistically analyzing the results of such surveys and studies (his own and other experts' studies), applying statistical sampling methodologies to extrapolate results from a subset to a universe of individuals, developing statistical models and tests to answer liability questions, applying economic theory to develop damages scenarios, and analyzing large employment related databases.

Professional and Business Experience

Representative Engagements

Employment Litigation

WAGE AND HOUR

- » For a computer equipment leasing company Stefan utilized statistical models to estimate exposure due to alleged forfeiture of unpaid vacation time.
- » For a limousine company Stefan developed a statistical sampling based exposure model to quantify the impact of alleged unpaid overtime.
- » In several cases involving 12 hour shift workers at hospitals Stefan performed rebuttal analyses of plaintiff's damages computations.
- » For a large electronic retail chain Stefan calculated exposure based on the failure of paying overtime for store managers.

Case3:13-cv-04916-WHA Document139-2 Filed11/20/14 Page13 of 60

- » For a major department store Stefan performed a statistical analysis of manager surveys where he found significant differences in the managers' allocation of time across department and stores. Ultimately, due to these differences a class was not certified.
- » For a large sporting goods retail chain Stefan assisted in defining the size of the potential class and in estimating the potential exposure which led to a favorable, early settlement of the case.
- » For a women's shoes retail chain Stefan designed and statistically analyzed an observational study to quantify the amount of time spent on exempt versus non-exempt tasks.
- » For a video rental store chain Stefan developed sampling algorithms based on in-store security cameras to analyze time spent by assistant managers on exempt versus non-exempt activities.
- » For a large fast food chain Stefan directed a team collecting employee work information from restaurant locations in order to monitor and gain compliance in response to litigation
- » For a large mass merchandiser Stefan developed a document and data reconciliation tool and he developed a statistical sampling mechanism to proof compliance with a court ordered document retention procedures in the course of a wage and hour litigation.
- » Stefan worked with a Fortune 500 bank in a class action suit to review the claims of managers that were misclassified and should have been paid overtime. To compute damages, Stefan reviewed the overtime records of employees in this position prior to a job classification change and, in the absence of overtime data after the job classification change, Stefan reviewed sign in and sign out times of the office building.
- » For a long-term care provider Stefan used data from timesheets, payroll, and other scheduling records to create comprehensive reports showing potential exposure for each of the claimed areas: timely wage payment, overtime wage payment, adequate daily meal and rest break periods, and travel time compensation.
- » For a maternity clothing store chain Stefan performed analyses related to exempt/non-exempt status issues for managers and assistant managers. Stefan also conducted a break time analysis for all employees.
- » For a commercial flooring contractor Stefan assessed the job duties and responsibilities of a group of supervisors. During the engagement, the scope of work expanded to include an analysis of misclassification and back-pay exposure for additional groups of employees.
- » For a software developer Stefan analyzed how department and project specific characteristics impacted the work flow and the correlation of that impact to certain exemptions.
- » For a large meatpacker Stefan conducted a time and motion study to properly assess the duration of certain separately compensated activities to rebut allegations of violation of minimum wage laws.
- » For a public university housing department Stefan conducted an extensive time and motion study to identify the tasks (and associated time range to perform each task) related to processing a contract cancellation.

- » For a large drugstore chain Stefan used in-store cameras for the smaller stores and actual in-store observations for the larger stores to conduct a time motion study and quantify the time spent by assistant managers on certain pre-defined tasks.
- » For a large public storage company Stefan conducted a detailed time and motion study to determine the cost of collection and administration of late payments. Using both self-logging and independent review techniques, Stefan defined each step in the late payment process, calculated the cost to the company for such activities, and compared this cost to the late fees under dispute.
- » For a large retail store chain Stefan performed statistical analyses of regularly conducted employee activity surveys.
- » For a mass merchandiser, Stefan conducted an observational study of activities of all individuals classified as managers to show significant differences in daily activities.
- » For a department store, Stefan conducted an in-store observational study of managers and assistance managers to assess the percentage of time spent on managerial tasks.
- » For a state ferry system in the Pacific Northwest, Stefan conducted an observational study of engine room personnel during shift changes to quantify potentially unpaid time worked.
- » For a large retail chain Stefan conducted an extensive analysis of the company's compliance with break time rules and regulations and also the employees' usage and potential abuse of break time.
- » For a large mass merchandise retailer Stefan compiled a comprehensive database of punch clock data, payroll data, point of sales data, hardcopy information about manual edits of time entries, store security system data, etc. to analyze allegations of inserting breaks, deleting time and forcing employees to work after they clocked out.
- » For a large electronic retail chain Stefan analyzed time card data, point of sales data and other store specific attributes to quantify potentially missed meal and rest breaks.

DISCRIMINATION, WRONGFUL TERMINATION

- » For a large telecommunications company, Stefan provided a rebuttal analysis of plaintiffs' expert's damages analysis in a multi-plaintiff action alleging wrongful termination and age discrimination. Stefan also developed alternative damages scenarios and addressed questions of liability.
- » In an OFCCP investigation alleging discriminatory hiring practices at several food processing plants, Stefan constructed employment databases and performed statistical analyses to address the allegations.
- » In a gender discrimination case involving a client in the food processing industry, Stefan analyzed the impact of the implementation of an Affirmative Action Plan on the allegedly discriminatory employment practices.
- » In a wrongful termination case alleging age discrimination for a vegetable seed company, Stefan performed rebuttal work of the plaintiff's expert's liability and damages analysis.

Case3:13-cv-04916-WHA Document139-2 Filed11/20/14 Page15 of 60

- » In a wrongful termination case alleging age discrimination for a major aerospace company, Stefan performed statistical analyses to rebut allegations of age discrimination.
- » In a class action race discrimination suit against the Alabama Department of Transportation, Stefan developed statistical regression models and tests to analyze the alleged discrimination.
- » In a class action gender discrimination case against a large real estate brokerage firm, Stefan provided deposition testimony to class certification issues.
- » In a wrongful termination dispute of a regional property manager, Stefan utilized economic and statistical models to assess the allegations of economic loss due to the separation of employment.
- » In a gender discrimination case against a temporary employment agency, Stefan performed econometric analyses to disprove salary discrimination against two former female employees. Stefan addressed plaintiffs' expert's damages calculations and developed alternative scenarios.
- » In a case involving a job lottery for dock workers, Stefan performed a statistical analysis of the process showing that the lottery did not create a disparate impact.
- » For a large meat processing plant, Stefan performed statistical analyses of employment data to address allegations of discriminatory hiring practices.

Other Disputes

- In numerous investigations about alleged stock option backdating Stefan developed and applied statistical methods analyzing financial data to evaluate the allegations. He also applied statistical sampling methodology in these cases.
- For a prestigious national not-for-profit organization, completed commissioned study to examine the actual trading activity of a number of diversified investors and compare it to alleged market price effects of claimed securities fraud (asserted in complaints) in order to determine the net impact of the particular diversified investors. Based on the study, made inferences about the impact on the broader community of diversified investors to determine to what extent shareholders in fact are paying themselves in class action settlements.
- For a leading publicly-traded developer of enterprise management software, employed statistical approach to demonstrate the diversity of investment styles among proposed lead plaintiffs for a securities class action lawsuit alleging section 10b-5 violations and other claims. Employed an econometric approach to estimate potential damages for each lead plaintiff.
- For a leading publicly-traded developer of enterprise management software, Stefan employed econometric time-series model to analyze allegations of insider trading and the timing of certain stock transactions relative to information available to officers in the company.

Case3:13-cv-04916-WHA Document139-2 Filed11/20/14 Page16 of 60

- For a shareholder derivative action against a leading publicly-traded health care provider, employed an econometric approach to quantify potential damages per share due to alleged section 10b-5 violations and other claims. For the same matter, developed a multi-trader model to estimate the number of shares potentially damaged.
- For a publicly-traded manufacturer of office supplies, developed a Black-Scholes application and utilized a binomial distribution probability methodology to evaluate the appropriateness of the size of a loan loss reserve related to a loan collateralized by the assets of an employee stock purchase plan.
- For a large software developer, Stefan performed statistical modeling to assist in a securities class action litigation involving allegations of improper revenue recognition, reserve allocations, financial statement disclosures and other accounting irregularities
- For a failed computer hardware company in defense of a 10b-5 securities litigation action, Stefan performed statistical analyses of accounting transactions, inventory and receivable reserves and the auditor's work papers in its evaluation of the allegations.
- In several Rule 10b(5) class actions, Stefan used the event study approach to calculate the value line of a security. In these cases Stefan applied complex and advanced one, two, and multi-trader models.
- When heading up the Economics and Statistical consulting group at a Big Five Accounting Firm, Stefan directed numerous engagements in quantifying exposure in securities litigation cases where wrongdoing of the auditor was alleged.
- For a patent infringement case on industrial orbital sanders, Stefan analyzed scenarios based on economic demand models and price elasticity calculations to determine past and future lost profits as well as price erosion.
- In a copyright infringement case of used car evaluation guides, Stefan specified and estimated linear and non-linear regression models to determine the effect of the infringement of the copyright on sales over time.
- In a merger of two warehouse chains, Stefan specified statistical tests and regression models to explain differences in inventory shortages.
- In a natural resource damage case, Stefan provided econometric analysis of property value loss due to proximity to a solid waste site utilizing hedonic regression models.
- In a natural resource damage case, Stefan provided econometric analysis of property value loss due to proximity to a polluted river utilizing hedonic regression models.
- For a case involving potential damage from a landfill in a state park, Stefan analyzed data about travel, tourism and park attendance. Stefan specified and estimated linear regression models and time series models to predict park attendance.
- For a large U.S. food and beverage company, Stefan worked on an evaluation of intangible assets based on an econometric model comparing the demand of branded and private label products.

- In a dispute over decline in returns for soybean futures, Stefan specified statistical models to predict cumulative returns.
- In a class action case involving alleged diminution of property values due to ground-water contamination, Stefan specified and estimated hedonic regression models to show that other factors than the contamination contributed significantly to the loss in property value.
- For a patent infringement case on micro-motors, Stefan analyzed data of production and sales of goods that contain micro-motors and ran econometric regressions to determine price erosion.
- For a film production company, Stefan specified statistical models to quantify the loss in expected box office revenue due to the breach of contract by a celebrity.
- In a dispute between a union and a meatpacker over violation of state law with respect to fixed allowances for certain compensable activities, Stefan analyzed the union's damage claim and conducted an activity timing analysis.
- Stefan designed and administered large-scale databases to reconstruct accounting records of a large financial institution's Corporate Trust Department. He developed statistical models to analyze bondholders' presentment behavior of Bearer bonds.
- In a dispute between the Department of Interior and individual Native Americans over mismanagement of individual trust accounts, Stefan performed a statistical analysis of an electronic database with approximately 60 million records in order to draw a statistically valid sample of accounts for further analysis.
- In a trademark infringement case of video equipment, Stefan calculated damages based on the defendant's unjust enrichment utilizing statistical time trend models.
- For a major chemical company involved in a personal injury case, Stefan created and maintained a database containing damage award data about chemical industries. Stefan also specified pooled cross-sectional/time-series regression models to analyze the effects of punitive damage awards on job safety and new capital expenditure.
- For a breach of contract case involving a production company over failed financing for a film, Stefan analyzed cost and revenue figures and estimated regression models to predict foreign box office revenues.
- For a major healthcare provider involved in a dispute with a potential class of more than 3,000 other providers over allegedly excessive outlier payments Stefan performed economic and statistical analyses. Ultimately, class certification was denied in that case.
- For a large homecare product provider involved in a Qui Tam investigation, Stefan analyzed and rebutted the Government's expert's statistical approach to extrapolating error frequencies and potential damages.
- For a large chain of healthcare services provider involved in a corporate fraud investigation, Stefan developed statistical models to assess how the corporate fraud may have affected payments under the federally funded healthcare reimbursement programs.

- For a shareholder derivative action against a leading publicly-traded health care provider, employed an econometric approach to quantify potential damages per share due to alleged section 10b-5 violations and other claims. For the same matter, developed a multi-trader model to estimate the number of shares potentially damaged.
- For a large chain of healthcare services provider involved in a corporate fraud investigation, Stefan developed statistical models in junction with a DOJ hired expert statistician to quantify potential overpayments through the cost report system which was tainted by the corporate fraud.
- For a major health care provider involved in a large scale DOJ investigation, Stefan developed statistical sampling models and negotiated their application in an eight year corporate integrity agreement with the OIG.
- For a State Department of Health and Social Services, Stefan quantified the damages caused by a system error in the State's Medicaid eligibility processing system.
- For a large homecare product provider involved in a Qui Tam investigation, Stefan developed alternative stratified sampling models to address allegations of fraudulent billing practices.
- For a State Department of Health and Social Services, Stefan developed a simulation study to assess the impact of an insurer's plans of changing its status to for-profit.
- In a provider's OIG self-disclosure relating to CPT coding issues, Stefan conducted statistical sampling reviews to prove that the errors were random in nature and did not constitute fraud.
- For a major health care provider, Stefan developed statistical methods to assess the exposure in a DOJ investigation related to cost report reserve issues.
- For a state's psychiatric hospitals, Stefan developed the statistical methodology in a billing dispute with HCFA about potential charge and billing problems.
- In a variety of cases, Stefan designed statistical random samples for an HMO to test the validity and reliability of electronic databases in a billing dispute with HCFA (now CMS).
- In a variety of cases, Stefan assisted clients in the use of the Government approved statistical program RatStat to perform probe samples and the necessary extrapolations of repayments due to the Government in Medicare reimbursements disputes.
- For several County owned hospitals in San Diego County, Stefan conducted the statistical analysis for a self disclosure, and presented the results to the regional OIG office in Santa Ana, CA.
- In a dispute between a major health care provider and private payor groups, Stefan developed statistical stratified sampling models to assess exposure across different contract types.

Case3:13-cv-04916-WHA Document139-2 Filed11/20/14 Page19 of 60

- For a project analyzing data of billing overcharges of a chain of psychiatric hospitals, Stefan worked on a sample design and the estimation of the total amount of overcharges based on the sample.
- For a large healthcare corporation involved in the breast implant litigation, Stefan specified and estimated statistical models to quantify the expected contribution to a combined settlement pool. He also quantified potential liability in individual law suits by analyzing company specific production and profitability data combined with a study of the correlation between compensatory and punitive damages in similar law suits.
- For a major health care provider, Stefan developed statistical sampling plans in the area of Home Health Care to assess the exposure in a DOJ investigation regarding medical necessity issues.
- For a major health care provider, Stefan developed statistical sampling models and predictive models to answer questions about irregularities of Lab billings.
- For the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services, Stefan conducted a time and motion study to determine the time required to complete specific Medi-Cal eligibility and provider forms.
- For the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services, Stefan developed a database tool to capture the time spent on specific Medi-Cal eligibility and provider tasks.
- For a large financial institution's personal trust department, Stefan designed a random sample to estimate the potential exposure due to fee overcharges.
- For a major long distance carrier, Stefan developed a stratified random sample design to estimate the amount of disputed charge backs from a service provider.
- In a dispute between a major long distance carrier and some of its supply vendors about overcharges on invoices, Stefan developed stratified random sample designs to quantify the overcharges.
- For a project analyzing the extent of competition in the market segments of a pipeline company, Stefan analyzed price indices.
- In an antitrust case involving high volume copiers, Stefan estimated the divisional cost of capital directly from divisional accounting time series using the capital asset pricing model.
- In a major municipal bankruptcy, Stefan performed an analysis of financial time series data of yields and cost of borrowing for the portfolio and selected subsets thereof. He also developed statistical forecast models based on the pre-bankruptcy portfolio to predict interest earnings and expenses as well as daily cash flows for the post-bankruptcy period.
- In a variety of cases, Stefan designed statistical random samples for HMO's to test the validity and reliability of electronic databases containing patient information. In a large variety of cases, Stefan rebutted expert reports utilizing economic theory or statistical techniques, in particular economic demand models, regression models and statistical sampling methods.

Non-Disputes

- For the American Film Marketing Association, Stefan performed an economic impact study of the influence of the independent film producers and distributors on the U.S. economy in general, and the California economy in particular.
- For a large entertainment client, Stefan developed statistical models to predict the return of video cassettes and DVDs.
- For several clients in the retail industry, Stefan developed statistical models to estimate the liability of unredeemed gift certificates.
- For a client in the restaurant business, Stefan developed statistical models to quantify the dollar amount of outstanding unredeemed gift certificates.
- For a major hotel chain, Stefan developed statistical models to forecast the redemption of frequent traveler program points for tax purposes.
- For a high profile e-commerce company, Stefan's team produced an interactive Business decision tool to forecast company growth and profitability. The interactive model allows the client, through the choice of a few fundamental inputs, to measure the simultaneous impact on all cost and revenue dimensions of the company, including real estate and equity participation.
- For the Nevada Resort Association, Stefan quantified the economic impact of the gaming industry with special emphasis on the accelerated population growth in greater Las Vegas.
- For the Los Angeles Unified School District, Stefan performed an economic study about the impact of different recycling programs.
- For the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services, Stefan conducted a time and motion study to determine the time required to complete specific Medi-Cal eligibility and provider forms.
- For the Arizona Tax Research Association, Stefan developed economic models to quantify the revenue impact of a proposed change of taxation in the construction sector in Arizona.
- For a hotel property management company, Stefan analyzed customer data, and used data mining methods to develop predictive models for customer acquisition, retention, and attrition.
- For a project analyzing the extent of competition in the market segments of a pipeline company, Stefan estimated regression and Tobit-models to determine optimal bidding behavior for gas storage demand. He prepared testimony given in filings before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC).
- For large grocery store chains, Stefan analyzed the effectiveness of a frequent shopper card program utilizing data mining techniques. He also analyzed customer data to facilitate the introduction of one-to-one marketing tools.

- For a hotel property management company, Stefan developed a demand driven yield management system.
- For a company providing self storage space, Stefan developed a demand driven price-setting strategy utilizing own- and cross-price elasticity regression models.
- For a high-tech start-up with a unique service offering of new products, Stefan recommended product-pricing scenarios.
- For a large international conglomerate, Stefan developed customized data mining techniques for the implementation within a customer knowledge management system.
- For a large law firm, Stefan performed a comprehensive statistical analysis of Los Angeles superior court jury verdicts over the last decade. The project tested the hypothesis of systematic bias in particular courthouses with respect to plaintiff-win probability, length of trial, length of deliberation, and dollar amounts awarded.
